Long Reach Gardening Tools

Designed for gardeners working from a seated position, or those with bending difficulties. Long Reach garden tools provide additional length to assist reaching ground level, or the further reaches of a raised flowerbed. Due to the balance of these tools we strongly recommend that our Arm Support Cuff is always used to improve weight distribution and control.

- Stainless steel tool, prevents soil adhesion for easier use and cleaning
- Ergonomic handle allows more work for less effort
- Option for Arm Support Cuff (recommended) uses strength of forearm in addition to hand and wrist
- Non-slip grip, prevents tool slipping in the hand even in wet conditions
- Brightly coloured handle – easy to find in garden or shed
- Overall length 80cm (30") gives greater accessibility without need for bending or stretching

Easi-Grip garden tools are designed on ergonomic principles to minimise the effort and discomfort experienced with conventional tools. All metal parts are manufactured from high quality stainless steel; the fork and trowel are polished to a mirror finish to minimise soil adhesion. The angled handle ensures that the hand and wrist are kept in a neutral, stress-free position; it is moulded from a "soft-feel" non-slip waterproof material. An interchangeable plug-in arm support may be attached to any tool for those with weak hands or wrists. These tools are supremely comfortable for every age and ability.

Fist Grip Add-On Handles

Add-On Handles may be fitted to a wide range of garden tools (and indeed in the home and workshop) giving them a firmer, more positive grip whilst keeping the hand and wrist in a comfortable position. Fitting two Add-On Handles to long shafted tools, such as rakes, hoes, brooms etc., enables work to be carried out in a more upright position, thus preventing back strain and giving a wider field of work without twisting the body. Fit Add-On Handles to your favourite garden tools to convert them into ergonomically correct tools. The handles have two stainless steel clamps which are tightened by finger operated plastic wing nuts. The Arm Support Cuff will plug into the rear of the handle for those with weak hands or wrists. Will fit handles up to 40mm(1.5in) diameter.
